Current call for PhD and MD students - Application portal open until July 1

The advertisement features a photograph of three scientists in a laboratory setting, smiling and looking at a document. The text above the photo reads "New Graduate School for Cancer Research in Berlin - an innovative, co-educative PhD/Clinical Scientist program" and includes the CHARITÉ logo. A QR code is located in the top left corner. The BSIO logo is overlaid on the bottom left of the photo. A red banner at the bottom contains the text: "New Call for PhD and MD students - Application deadline is July 1, 2013 Further details at www.bsio-cancerschool.de".

The second application round for PhD students in the biomedical and transdisciplinary track as well as for MD students is currently ongoing.

Deadline for applications is July 1, 2013.

Applicants who are selected for the second application round (= interview round) will be invited for interview in Berlin on September 2-5, 2013. Travel awards will be available for candidates invited to Berlin; accommodation in Berlin will be organized by the BSIO.

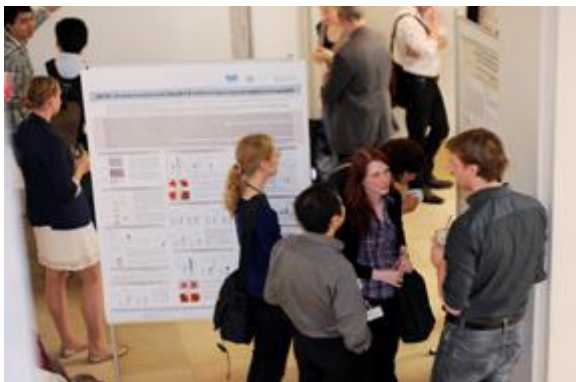

Further information on the application process can be found at www.bsio-cancerschool.de.

“Systems Medicine in Cancer” meeting organized by Charité and MDC on June 14/15 in Berlin very well received

On June 14/15, 2013, the fourth international conference within the “In Cancer” conference series took place at the Langenbeck-Virchow-Haus in Berlin, this time dedicated to the topic of “Systems Medicine in Cancer”. The conference, which featured talks of international experts as well as abstract talks and poster presentations, has been received very well by the international audience. Pictures taken at the conference will soon as available at www.mkfz.charite.de; here are already some (first) impressions of the meeting:

Prof. Clemens Schmitt, one of the meeting organizers (together with Prof. Claus Scheidereit) during his welcome note.
